Article XII – Services of the Rabbi in Funerals and Unveilings

Section 1: Members – The services of the Rabbi for funerals and unveilings are primarily for the benefit of the members of Congregation Ohev Shalom. Members of Congregation Ohev Shalom shall have priority over non-members for the Rabbi's services. It is understood that our members are to be provided the services of the Rabbi for the above occasion at no additional charge.

Gratuities are solely on the basis of the individual member's desire and are not required. In referring to the Ohev Shalom Synagogue area, our geographic area, or our community, we mean the area in which it would be expected that Jewish families should affiliate with our synagogue as members, i.e., Delaware County.

Section 2: Funerals for Non-members Who Have a Cemetery Lot and are to be Buried in Our Cemetery – The funeral will be arranged in the usual manner through Ohev Shalom's Rabbi, Cemetery Chair, and approved funeral directors at a time which will not conflict with the synagogue commitments of the Rabbi. The fee for the Rabbi will be the currently established fee per the funeral director. This fee is to be included in the funeral director's bill, and it is the funeral director's responsibility to collect the fee and pay the Rabbi.

Section 3: Non-Member Funerals NOT in our Synagogue or Cemetery – The services of our Rabbi shall NOT be available to a non-member who resides in Delaware County. For a non-member outside Delaware County, at the request of a member of our Congregation, the family may make arrangements directly with the Rabbi and any fee arrangements will be made by the Rabbi and collected by him/her. The Synagogue will not bill or collect for the service. The timing of the funeral shall not interfere with the Rabbi's synagogue commitments.

Section 4: Non-Member Unveilings – The same rules apply here as for a non-member's funeral. The services of our Rabbi shall NOT be made available to non-members living in our geographic area. For a non-member outside our geographic area, the family may make arrangements directly with the Rabbi and any fee arrangements will be made by the Rabbi and collected by him/her. The timing of the unveiling shall not interfere with the Rabbi's synagogue commitments.
